BOOKLIST & COMPENDIUM 2016-2019

BOOK LIST & REVIEW

American Buttonhooks by Paul Moorehead

It has 187 pages liberally illustrated and draws together all that we know about the American buttonhook. With original research it also draws upon past Newsletters, the Compendiums and Dorothy Rainwaters Encyclopedia of American Silversmiths all slotted into key points of American History.

BUTTONHOOKS – An Historical Perspective by Paul Moorehead

One of the aspects of buttonhook collecting which has always intrigued me was the context in which they were used. The fact that a man in the eighteenth century could set out with a multum in parvo in his pocket, confident that he could tackle any job that was asked of him, is quite intriguing. When I began collecting in 1968, the books on costume then were full of quite definite assertions; 'buttonhooks were invented for gentlemen's button boots that suddenly arrived in 1837 ... and ladies' dressing table sets appeared in 1885 when ladies suddenly began to wear buttoned boots.' However the more I researched the more I realised that history is far messier than that; the trail going off on different tangents and down highways and byways. There are no absolutes and no full stops in history.

I do not pretend that this is any kind of history book. Whilst its contents are accurate, for brevities sake they are rather selective, intending to give a flavour of the historical periods rather than an in depth analysis. I hope that you enjoy this brief romp through history

An Introduction to Gorham for Buttonhook & Silver Collectors by Ian Wood

Ian has written a book about the American silversmith GORHAM which has been published by the Buttonhook Society. It will be of great interest to both buttonhook and silver collectors. N.B 68 pages in colour

Buttonhooks To Trade, To Treasure by Bertha Betensley 1958, reprinted 1992

First published in the USA and republished by The Buttonhook Society, this is the first known book on buttonhooks. There are nine chapters with black & white plates concentrating on the following types of handle:- Ivory, Metal, Advertising, Wooden, Pyrolin plastics and silver, plus further chapters on closed end buttoners and twisting & pen knife types of hook. All hooks are described along with recollections.

Antique Buttonhooks for Shoes, Gloves and Clothing by Bertha Betensley

First published in the USA and republished by The Buttonhook Society, this book contains photos and illustrations of over 300 hooks. It begins with a short introduction on the need and uses of buttonhooks. There follows 7 chapters concentrating on the following types of handle:- Wooden, Metal, Gold & Silver, Plastic Ivory, Glass & Porcelain. Plus a chapter on Patents and some detailed information.

Specialties and Novelties in Shoe Store Supplies

Over 150 buttonhooks illustrated in this facsimile reprint of a 1926 US Shoe Trade Catalogue. (Now includes copy of price list as described below). Reproduced by The Buttonhook Society, this catalogue of the J L Sumner Manufacturing Company, based in the USA, features the everyday buttonhooks & accessories they produced. There is an emphasis on advertising hooks. Many metal and wooden hooks have very good descriptions including price and size. This Company produced many of the advertising hooks which are found in collections worldwide.

Buttonhooks, A Guide For The Collector by Jackie Booker

First published in 1982 but has been out of print for some years, now re-printed by The Buttonhook Society. Probably the earliest publication on buttonhooks in the UK and contains over 250 photographs and descriptions of buttonhooks.

Buttonhooks & Shoehorns by Sue Brandon

Most new members find us through this Shire Book No 122. An informative book containing many black & white photos of buttonhooks and associated items such as shoehorns button boots, etc. Full descriptions of all photos are given. Chapters include:-
A brief history of buttonhooks, shoehorns. Descriptions of who might have used different types of hook. Advertising & Patents. Buttonhooks & Shoehorns in modern use today.

An Illustrated A-Z of Glovehooks by Paul Moorehead

The first book to include colour pictures of over 300 glovehooks, and exclusive to members of The Society, it begins with a short history of the glove. There then follows an A-Z of glovehook descriptions from Acanthus to Zylonite! There are 16 clear colour plates showing a wide range of glovehooks and all are described. Also there are 14 black & white plates, again with full descriptions.

British and North American Silversmiths' Marks as found on 19th & 20th century buttonhooks.

Compiled by The Buttonhook Society 2005. This is a completely revised and updated Marks booklet, now containing also North American Makers' marks as well as introductions to both UK and US/Canadian makers.
